

First Aid Procedure Brochure

Directions:

Develop a brochure concerning each type of injury (i.e. bleeding, wounds, burns, and bone and joint injuries). Your instructor will assign an injury from each category of injuries, and you will create a brochure over those specific injuries.

1. You are responsible for researching and including the following information in your brochure:
 - How to identify the injury
 - Immediate treatment procedure
 - Potential problems to treatment (e.g. infection)
 - Long-term treatment
2. Develop an attractive and creative brochure which includes at least the following:
 - At least three steps which should be followed
 - Five graphics
 - Numbers for any relevant hotlines or contacts
 - Citation information listing all sources used
3. Be prepared to share the brochure with the class.
